

GANS WON
ON A FOULGiven Decision Over Nelson
In 42nd Round

AFTER A HARD FIGHT

Negro Had the Advantage of the Dane
All the Way Through the Great
Mill at Goldfield, Nevada,
Yesterday.

Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 4.—Battling Nelson lost yesterday's fight by fouling Joe Gans in the 42nd round of the best and longest fight seen in many years. Both men were tired when the fight ended, but Gans was apparently the stronger. He was way ahead on points and had smashed and cut Nelson all through the fight without being severely hurt himself. Shortly after the 42nd round began the men were in their usual clinch. Nelson had his head on Gans' shoulder and his arm down. Several times he hit Gans below the belt, apparently feeling for a vital spot. At last he drew back his right arm and hit Gans a vicious blow square in the groin. The colored boy sank to his knees and rolled over on his back. Referee Siler without hesitation ordered Nelson to his corner and awarded the fight to Gans on a foul.

Siler's decision received almost unanimous approval. The foul was so obvious that not even men who had bet on Nelson could say that it had not been committed. All through the long contest Nelson had employed rough tactics. He repeatedly hit Gans, and had to have his head pulled away repeatedly by the referee.

Fought With Broken Hand.

Gans in many ways put up a remarkable fight. His endurance surprised everyone. His work was the more wonderful in that he broke his right hand in the 33rd round. Never after that did he strike a blow with it, with the exception of a few short arm jolts while clinching. He did all his work with the left hand. Gans said he knew he could finish Nelson, as he was comparatively strong and Nelson was growing weaker all the time. "Larry" Sullivan announced for Gans that he would meet Nelson in two weeks in another fight, as he was sure he could whip him and did not want to take advantage of the foul.

Gans explained that he did not want to box Nelson, for he found early that he could protect himself in clinches and realized that the exertion in fighting that was less than he could whip him and did not want to take advantage of the foul.

Everything for Gans.

The first 15 rounds of the fight were fast. After that the fighting slowed up. Although Gans was far ahead of Nelson on points and most of the time looked like a sure winner, Nelson put up a wonderful fight. Time and again Gans would jolt him in the jaw, sending him back. His knees would bend and his eyes become glazed, but he held on and would come back fighting as hard as ever. The minute's rest at the corner always did him good, and he would come back fresh and strong. On nearly half a dozen occasions, when it seemed that another blow would put him out, the gong saved him.

On occasions he apparently had the advantage. He would hit Gans as they broke from a clinch, and the colored boy would hang and wrestle. Twice when he knocked Nelson down he picked him up. Once when one of Gans' punches knocked Nelson through the ropes, Gans picked him up and helped him to his feet. As the colored boy stood with his hands down waiting for Nelson to steady himself, Nelson sent him a vicious blow in the stomach. He was roundly blessed for this by the crowd.

ADDRESSES
LABOR MENPresident Gompers in Rutland
Yesterday

"ATTACK YOUR ENEMIES"

Great Celebration for Labor—Observance of the Day at Graniteville and at Bellows Falls.

Rutland, Sept. 4.—Rain early in the day prevented the many expected delegations from other towns from participating in the Labor day celebration here but the local unions turned out in force and although interrupted by frequent showers, held one of the biggest celebrations in their history, the principal feature of which was an address by President Samuel D. Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

The men, representing 20 Rutland county unions, formed for parade in the business section at one o'clock and paraded to the fair grounds where field day exercises were held. President Gompers addressed the men largely to Labor day saying that it stood for peace and prosperity and impressing upon his audience the importance of these two qualities in bettering organized labor. Labor, he said, has determined that its first duty is to defeat positively those who are asking its suffrage and who have been hostile and indifferent to its just demands and to administer a needed rebuke to them. This will not only benefit the toilers but the people of our entire country.

Politically he said only: "Labor has always taken political action more or less." The politics of labor have been for the laborer and the common people without regard to party. As time goes on organization extends and the spirit of federation expands, gaining confidence, self-respect and power, and exerting these for the benefit and advantage primarily of the workers and necessarily for all the people. If they can hope to obtain their rights, labor men must show their teeth to their political as well as their economic opponents.

In referring to the gubernatorial campaign in this state, which will be settled at the polls today, Mr. Gompers said: "The man who misses the chance he now has to administer a needed rebuke to the enemies of organized labor is unworthy of the name of a union man." The declaration of his opinion of the local campaign was the only one made by Mr. Gompers, and it was the signal for an outburst of enthusiasm. He advised unions to be always prepared for a strike.

LABOR DAY SPORTS
AT GRANITEVILLELarge Crowd Attended and Had a Good
Time, in Spite of Several Showers
During the Day.

Graniteville, Sept. 4.—A large crowd attended the quarry workers' picnic at Gazeley's park yesterday and all enjoyed themselves, even if the rain did come down in torrents at times and send them scurrying for shelter in the tent and grove. A large majority of the crowd was drenched by the showers, but all stayed and witnessed the contests, going home satisfied that it was a day well spent, in spite of the weather.

The sports were well contested, especially in the 100-yard dash, married ladies' race and quarter-mile race. Aunt Sally, as usual, afforded considerable amusement and all the refreshment stands did a brisk business. Prof. J. H. Dimbar of North Hartland was the speaker of the day and gave an interesting talk on the labor issues of the present time.
